DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

ner to a number of Democratic officers and leaders of the present convention. Reviewing the struggles of the Democratic party, Mr. Bryan said: "After 16 years of waiting, our party entered the White House and fortunately we won the Senate and the House at the same time. Our party became responsible for national affairs and now we come after three years of labor to make our plans for the future, and to submit to the American people the claims of our party at continued confidence."

"Whatever differences of opinion may exist, or may have existed as to particular measures of particular acts we are here to begin the fight of 1916, a united party in every state in the union, ready for battle."

"To-day those who stand for the Democratic party are able to go before this nation and not only give a reason for the faith that is in them, but give a defense of the administration's claims to the confidence of the people."

"You may take all the administrations from the beginning of our history as a republic to the beginning of the present one, and you will not find as many laws written upon the statute books, of great importance to the people as you will find written in the last three years by Woodrow Wilson, a Democratic president."

Briefly, Mr. Bryan then referred to the tariff revision, the federal reserve law and the strengthening of the anti-trust laws.

"No president since Jackson," said Mr. Bryan, "has had to meet such an unholly combination of the powers of high finance and even Jackson himself never met the situation better than Woodrow Wilson met it. We have just commenced to learn what the federal reserve law means for this nation."

"This great piece of legislation, the greatest piece of constructive statesmanship in a generation, has not only broken the hold of Wall street upon the business of the nation, but it has broken the grip of Wall street upon the politics of the United States. For 20 years there has not been an election but what a hundred men in Wall street could, by coercion they had in their power, change the result of the election. Anyone who like myself has felt their power must be pardoned if he rejoices that we have an administration that has broken that power and set a nation free."

"If I understand this nation's opportunity and this nation's task, it is to lead the world away from its false philosophy and help it to build its hope of peace on the enduring foundation of love and brotherhood and co-operation."

"And, my friends, if this is to be the task of this nation, what party is more fit to perform the task than the party that preaches the brotherhood of man as next in importance to the fatherhood of God."

"I, as a lover of my country, want my country to win this greatest of all prizes. As a Democrat, I want my party to have the honor that shall come with the achievement and fulfillment of such a task and I stand with the Democrats of the nation to give to Woodrow Wilson an opportunity to be that man."

WILSON "VERY GRATEFUL"

To His Friends for the Democratic Presidential Nomination.

Washington, D. C., June 16.—President Wilson was notified by Secretary Tumulty a few minutes after he and Vice-President Marshall had been nominated by acclamation at the St. Louis convention. His only comment was: "I am very grateful to my generous friends."

THINKS T. R. WILL RETURN.

Frederick C. Tanner Also Predicts He Will Be Whole-Hearted in Support.

New York, June 16.—Prediction was made by Frederick C. Tanner, chairman of the Republican state committee, in an address last night at a "ratification" meeting of the Republican county committee, that Colonel Theodore Roosevelt will return to the Republican ranks, "not in a half-hearted or acquiescent spirit, but vigorously, full of light, determined to play his part in ending the fiasco of government now taking place in Washington."

"We are all rejoicing to-night," he said, "that the party is reunited. A reunited party spells victory."
